

Choosing Your DD Tent - Starter Guide

DD Tents are all exceptionally lightweight and can be used to suit a variety of purposes.

Tents of the same shape are designed to be compatible with each other as inner and outer layers; Those on the same row are easily set up together.

You will require either 1 or 2 hiking poles / tarp poles for set-up (sold separately).

Please see each tent's website listing for more details.

*Tent weights and included items:

Each Tent Includes:

- 2 x full sets of guy-lines (black / stealth set & a fluorescent yellow set for you to choose from)
- Full set of pegs for set-up
- 2 spare pegs

The above items are not included in the stated weights, to give a more direct comparison.

**Note on capacity:

Stated capacities take into account 1 average-sized camping rucksack per-person.

If 2 people are sleeping in the SuperLight A-Frame or Pyramid Tents (not including the XL version), we recommend using a smaller rucksack per-person to avoid overcrowding.
